All too often when a biography like this becomes available, even though very important to family history, people make the mistake of ordering just one copy for the family library, only to find as their children grow up and leave the house that they wished they had bought a book for each child. In an effort to help family members avoid this pitfall, we are offering Gold & Treasure to the decedents of John Lowe Butler I, at our production cost, less than half the $24.95 cover price. We hope that the ability to buy copies of this book for as low as $12 each will encourage you to buy enough for your children and perhaps grandchildren. As you can see on the order form below, we have combined book price and shipping costs to make it as inexpensive and easy for you as possible. It is unlikely that a reprint of this book will occur for many years, if ever, so take advantage of this opportunity now.
